

Marie Vibbert

Author – Educator – Developer

Hugo and Nebula nominated author Marie Vibbert's short fiction has appeared over 90 times in top magazines like Nature, Analog, and Clarkesworld, and been translated into Czech, Chinese and Vietnamese. Her debut novel, Galactic Hellcats, was long listed by the British Science Fiction Award and her work has been called "everything science fiction should be" by the Oxford Culture Review. She also writes poetry, comics, and computer games. By day she is a computer programmer in Cleveland, Ohio.

Suggested Interview Topics

- Working-class science fiction
- Women in science fiction history
- Inventing fictional technology
- Computer learning, AI
- History of hats
- Crafting plots
- The art of finishing
- Comics vs. games vs. prose
- Organized labor and the rust belt
- Playing women's football
- Being an identical twin

Connect with Marie

Website: <https://marievibbert.com>

Instagram: <https://www.instagram.com/marievibbert/>

Facebook: <https://www.facebook.com/marie.l.vibbert>

Bluesky: <https://bsky.app/profile/reasie.bsky.social>

Email: reasie@gmail.com